Summary: Poor Springtrap suffers from early spring fever and comes down with the nasty flu. Nightmare does what he does best and that is caring for his beloved bunny.

1. Chapter 1

Those Tender Loving Moments

(Nightmare/Springtrap)

Springtrap covered his mouth with his hand as he had another loud coughing fit for what he believed to be the fifth time today.

The weather had been unusually strange as of the late and it was causing his systems to malfunction.

Springtrap wiped some stray tears from his eyes after his coughing spell had finished the pain in his chest slowly calming as he took shallow deep breaths hoping that it was over.

"Sweetie are you ok?" Springtrap turned to face his beloved boyfriend, Nightmare who was giving the tattered rabbit a concerned look.

Nightmare overheard him coughing from where he was in the main lobby.

Springtrap felt his ears drop in shame," Sorry Nightmare I didn't meant to cause you such disturbance"

Nightmare's eyes widened in shock," Spring honestly if you weren't feeling well you should have said something" He began fretting over the rabbit who he noticed was swaying more then usual.

Springtrap rubbed his eyes trying to stop the dizziness," ngh, I didn't want to be a bother-" Nightmare gasped his body reacting quickly as he made a quick dive to catch the falling rabbit.

"Spring?"

"..." Springtrap's eyes were closed shut in pain his breathing coming out in shallow pants.

"Oh my sweet bunny" Nightmare sighed softly as he turned around and made quick haste to their shared bedroom placing the semi-conscious rabbit on the bed.

Springtrap moaned his head turned to the side," Nightmareâ€¦"

"I'm right here darling calm yourself" Nightmare soothed the other as he brushed some stray hair from the others eyes.

"I don't feel so good" Springtrap sat up abruptly his hands covering his mouth as Nightmare noticed the rabbit's cheeks turn a rather unhealthy shade of green.

Nightmare reacted quickly grabbing a bucket just as Springtrap threw up.

"That's it sweetie get it all out of your system..." Nightmare cooed rubbing Springtrap's back . Springtrap blushed shyly before he turned his face into the bucket again another spell hitting him hard.

"Ugh" Springtrap groaned pulling his head up coughing.

"I think you need to sleep this off sweetie" Nightmare frowned.

Springtrap nodded his head in agreement before he ducked under the covers of their bed getting cozy and warm," Thank you Nightmare..." Nightmare smiled nuzzling their noses together earning a giggle from the other.

"Anything for you my sweet" Springtrap smiled before he slipping into slumber.

"Hey Springtrap can I talk to you-" Freddy walked into the door not bothering to knock on the door and stood still.

"Hello Fazbear..." Nightmare deadpanned hating how their moments seem to always get interrupted by this guy?

Freddy coughed into his fist," Do I need to explain the rules again Nightmare" Nightmare rolled his eyes," No you've explained them enough"

Freddy walked over to their bed and leaned down studying the sleeping rabbit," Is he ok?"

Nightmare sighed shaking his head," He has a horrible fever this weather wasn't doing any favors for his systems" Freddy gave the rabbit a sad worried look.

"Just make sure he gets proper bed-rest ok and plenty of fluids" Nightmare nodded.

"Will do captain" Freddy smiled to his friend.

"Good to hear Nightmare" Just as Freddy opened the door to leave he turned to face the other.

"Oh and before I forget I don't want to hear any 'disturbances' when Springtrap is back on his feet" Freddy gave the other a devious smirk before shutting the door behind him.

'That guy...'

>AN: Haha poor Springtrap -cuddles him- Our poor baby got ill...My prompt is simple because the weather is whacky lately and it causes his body to crash or in this case he gets sick. The Fnaf characters belong to their rightful owners.

2. Take the Meds

Sharing a Tender Moment

Nightmare watched from his spot next to Springtrap's bedside as the tattered rabbit slept off his fevered body soundly soft snores slipping from his mouth.

"Poor thing..." Nightmare sighed softly brushing his tipped claws through Spring's sweaty fur.

Springtrap murmured something leaning into the touch a gentle smile on his face.

"Hey Nightmare how is he?" Nightmare looked over his shoulder to see his good friend Freddy looking into their darkened room with a worried look.

Nightmare smiled a bit," He's better than two days ago his fever is not as much as it was than" Freddy's eyes widened quite horrified.

"His fever spiked that badly why didn't you ask Marionette for assistance?"

"He's my responsibility and I have medical practice from my realm that is very useful" He murmured thoughtfully chuckling when he noticed he brown bears confused look.

"Ah, I forgot you used to live your nightmare buddies?" Freddy smiled.

Nightmare smiled nodding his head," Yes and thanks to them I've learned loads"

"well if you see any changes let me know" Freddy bowed before leaving the room.

"Thank you friend"

"Nightmare..." Nightmare turned to see a sleepy-eyed Springtrap looking at him with blurry eyes.

"Yes darling?" Springtrap yawned before nuzzling against the other.

"Was that Freddy just now?"

"Yes he was worried for you as was everyone else he even suggested that I should have brought you to the puppet" Springtrap snorted turning his head away.

"He's so overprotective lately he should know that you are just as good as the puppet"

"That means a lot to me sweetie" Nightmare cooed kissing him on the lips fully.

Springtrap blushed and Nightmare began to worry that his fever had risen again.

"I love you so much Nightmare for taking care me" Springtrap murmured softly leaning up giving his lovely bear lover a giant hug.

"Hey Springtrap it's me Marionette" Springtrap and Nightmare quickly separated from each other heavily blushing.

"Seriously dude why now of all times" Nightmare grumbled puffing out his cheeks childishly.

"Oh pish posh Nightmare I'm one of the oldest animatronics here besides you and you can't fool me as to what you and Springy were doing behind these doors" Marionette teasing reaching into his bag of supplies.

Springtrap covered his face with his hands how many of these people knew about him and Nightmare?

Marionette held out a thermometer to the tattered rabbit," Here stick this under your tongue"

"Just do it sweetie then you can rest some more" Nightmare whispered trying to soothe the annoyed rabbit.

Deciding it was better just to get this done and over with Springtrap opened his mouth making way for the metal stick.

"Hmm just as I thought your fever has spiked much worse" Marionette sighed shaking his head before going back for his bag.

"Is it that bad?" Nightmare asked now noticing his lover had his eyes closed shut.

"I would say so darling with this weather fluctuating rapidity back and forth and it's causing his system to go nuts thus the increasing fever spike" Marionette pulled out some medication which Nightmare assumed were to help with his fever?

"Spring, wake up and take this medication it will help with your fever" Springtrap barely opened his eyes noticing the pills in his hands.

"No..." Nightmare frowned already knowing where this was headingâ€¦.

"But it will make you feel better Spring or else you might well-" Nightmare held out his hand towards the puppet.

"Nightmare?"

"Allow me I'll get him to take the pills" Nightmare assured softly giving him a gentle smile.

Marionette sighed," Alright make sure he takes them his life is in a delicate balance"

"Thank you"

Once seeing the puppet was gone the bear gave his lover an annoyed look," Spring you know this will make you feel better" Springtrap shook his head.

"They taste horrible"

"Please, I don't want you to die" Nightmare whispered sadly.

Springtrap opened one eye before sighing," Alright..."

Moments later Springtrap was sleeping soundly once more the medicine doing it's job and working into his system.

Nightmare sighed with relief knowing his beloved will be ok.

'He's so stubborn, but he's still cute'
